Teller Wants to Spenk.

One of the most significant developments of to-day in the desperate struggle which Speaker Cannon and other Republican leaders are making for intrency legislation was the notification of Senator Aldrich By Senator Teller that the latter wanted to discuss a currency bill should one be reported to the Senate. Senator Teller is a "hefty" talker, and entirely capabel of continuing a speech for several days, although considerable beyond the three-score-and-ten milepost. "Of course," said Senator Culberson, Democratic leader of the Senate, "there will be nothing like a fillbuster inaugurated on our side, but several Democratic Senators have indicate their desire to speak on the bill which it is reported the conference will bring in."

Swinging the Club.

The public buildings bill is being used to compel members of Congress to remain here. There are many absentees, especially of Republican members. A considerable number of Demorats are away also, especially Southern members. Five of the Georgia delegation are at home looking after their fences. If it should become apparent that there will be a currency bill reported from the conferees. Demoratic representatives close enough to Washington will be called back. Chairman Bartholdt, of the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds.

on Public Buildings and Grounds, to-day that he was withholding report of the public buildings bill ferees, and that he would continue to so until currency legislation was code or until it was made clear that legislation could not be secured, is such a plain, straightforward attent that "pork" would be used upel financial legislation as had en heard before, currency bill which will be if one is finally enacted, will a patchwork and makeshift as them attempted by any legistody in dealing with a pation.

It would be a matter of cruelty, said Mr. Payne, to adjourn "without allowing the Democratic party the opportunity to tell the country how they all turned their backs on the Bryan-Willams currency bill."

Against Mr. Williams's allusion about the bulkiness of the record, Mr. Payne read statistics showing that between December 19th and January 7th last, before the fillbuster, the Democrats had used up 183 pages, while the Republicans had occupied but thirty-eight pages. As to adjournment, Mr. Payne said the House would adjourn when the majority saw it to order it. The order was vigorously opposed by Messrs, Hamiin, of Missouri, Robinson, of Arkansas, and Sluyden, of Texas.

SENATE DULL.

No Important Mensures Passed and Fillbustering Not Employed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26 .- The session of the Senate dragged along to day in such an unimportant way that little effort was shown on the part of the managers of the fillbuster to oc the managers of the fillbuster to oc-cupy the time by dilatory tactics. The conferees on the currency bills met diring the day, and the Senate was merely kept in session in the hope that something might be done looking toward substantial progress in the work of closing up the session.

Hand, a native of the town. Mr. Jerome, accompanied by Assistant District Attorney Garvan, arrived last night. Franklin Pierce, counsel for the King committee, was on the same train.

The hearing to-day was held in the county courthouse. As soon as proceedings opened Mr. Pierce filed a voluminous brief. Mr. Jerome then began to sum up.

Brilliant Entertainment at Buckingham Palace ta His Honor.

LONDON, May 26.—At Buckingham Palace to-night a great state bail was given in honor of M. Failleres, the President of the French Republic. This was the culminating feature of a busy day of entertainment spent by King Edward's guest. Everywhere the French President has gone he has been greeted with the greatest enthusiasm, and early in the evening crowds gathered about the royal residence to watch the processions to the palace and to cheer the President of France.

The scene within the walls of Buckingham was one of exceptional brilliance. The royal guests assembled in the throne room, and a fanfare of trumpets heralded their entry to the bailroom, which was superbly decorated with flowers.

Owners of American patents contend that this act will work a hardship on them, and as the United States respects all patents, whether American or foreign owned, they argue that Americans should receive equal treatment in Great Britain, Foreign Secretary Grey will find great difficulty in dealing with this matter, as the Liberal government has taken considerable credit to itself for passing this act, which is one of the most popular of its administration. The tariff reformers claim that it is a direct step toward the protection of British industries.

BALLOT BOXES TO BE OPENED

Justice Lambert's Decision in MayorMichael Came Favors Hearst.
NEW YOBK, May 26.—Justice Lambert, presiding over the Hearst-McClellan mayorality contest case, announced decision this morning of the most important point raised in the proceedings thus far.

It is to the effect that the ballot boxes must be opened. The ruling was on a test case, and apparently means that the Hearst fight to have the pallot boxes opened has at last succeeded. To-day's decision comes at the end of what may be termed the preliminary stage of the quo warranto trial. Under the decision of the Court of Appeals the State, nominally the plaintiff, was required to show that the ballot boxes had been preserved intact before they could be opened and the recount actually begun.
